The Gold Football by Logan Cuttler

One day I was going to football practice. When I went to get my football. It was glowing gold. It had a face! It was talking to me! "What are you?" I asked. "It said I'm a gold football it said". Then I put the football back in the bag. After practice I went home and looked at the gold football. And it started talking again and it said to me again "PUT ME DOWN". I did that, and it said thank you. Then I went to bed for school tomorrow. I said to the football that I'm going to put you so where you can't move any more. "Then it said that you can try but One you won't". I said bet I will. "Then it's Sunday at 5:30" took my football out of my bag, something was moving. When I picked the ball up and it said, "PUT ME DOWN!!" "No way,"

All about the Day of the Dead

by: Jaelynn Monk

The Day of the Dead is on November 1 and 2, so you can remember the ones who have died in your family. This holiday started thousands of years ago. Every October 30 or 31 families build a special altar or Ofrendas. These altars are taken down on November 2. Then a sweet Mexican bread is made along with water to feed the thirst of our returning souls. The Day of the Dead's most recognizable symbols are Calcas (skeletons) are Calaveras (skulls). The festival begins at 12:00AM on November 1.

Clever Endeavor

This orangutan was seen making a tool to retrieve a floating wicker basket from the water. The ape had his eye on the wicker basket in the pond. Kawi grabbed a long cloth and started to splash it in the water to make it heavy.

This orangutan was smart for doing this. He wanted to play with the wicker basket that fell in the water and used his quick thinking to achieve a cloth and make it heavy to get the wicker basket.

DVES Celebrates Veteran's Day

The way that our school celebrated Veteran's Day was by having some of the kid's veterans come to the school. An assembly was held on that day, and they played songs. Some of the orchestra and band players played a song for the veterans. The second graders sang this Land is Your Land. Richie's grandpa came up on stage and explained what it is like to be a veteran.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is not celebrated all over the world, but some places have their own harvest festival in the fall. People all over the world say the food is good and the pies are good, but some people do not like fall or Thanksgiving. I like Thanksgiving food.

It's Time to Fly by Kelsie
Johnson

It's that time of year again, when I must fly South for the winter. I always see something unique on every trip like humans putting up Christmas trees and decorating them. I also see other bird friends who don't fly south. It's always a long but fun trip.

Mr.

SHANES

I like Mr. Shane's because Their food is delicious. I like their food because the creamy flavor just melts in your mouth, and it tastes so good. My favorite meal is Ribeye steak. There is not much fat and almost two 6-year-old kids could share it. There is a kid's menu with many choices for your kids.
